

PROFILE

Mike Badgley is a voice actor, scientist, and educator. Starting behind the mic in college at WHRB 95.3 FM, he continued to develop his performance and communication skills as he pursued his PhD in cancer biology at Columbia University. A professionally trained actor, Mike can provide performances for commercials, video games, audio dramas, film, explainers and more. He excels in script analysis, taking direction, and a quick turnaround time. He is always growing and loves collaborating with his clients to make their stories memorable.
